CONFLICT RESOLUTION

THE HENRY M. JACKSON SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

JSIS 278
(listed under “Global Challenges”)

SPRING 2024
1:30 p.m. – 3:20 p.m.
MW | 5C | SSc ELIGIBLE
SLN: 21452

QUESTIONS? FMA20@UW.EDU

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This course explores theoretical and empirical approaches to war and peace. Students will critically examine the root causes of conflicts and learn tools for analyzing different peacebuilding mechanisms. Students will work on applied conflict resolution projects using the skills acquired in class.

INSTRUCTOR:
FRANCIS ABUGBILLA

Francis Abugbilla is a lecturer of international studies at the University of Washington. He has lived experiences and knowledge of the root causes of African conflicts and the mechanisms to resolve them. His research focuses on peacebuilding and conflict resolution in post-conflict societies. He holds a Ph.D. in International Studies from the University of Washington.