New requirement: Digital product accessibility reviews

Digital accessibility is required by law (ADA) and UW policy. Before purchasing or renewing any web application, mobile app, or other digital product, you must complete a Digital Product Accessibility Review to ensure it meets accessibility standards. This does not apply to any purchases made from the UW Software Catalog or to desktop-only applications.

Purchasing agents must verify that the accessibility review has been performed for each product/renewal and approved before they can proceed with any digital purchases or reimbursements. This review and approval will be required to be attached to any Requisition or Procurement Connect ticket request for all Digital Product purchases that are placed on or after April 26, 2026.

Starting now, when you send in your requests to sefsfin for any digital products, please include the approval email that you receive from “Digital Product Accessibility Review.” If you don’t include the approval email, we will remind you to request approval through the link above and forward the approval after you have provided it.
